

BELIEVE THIS OR NOT; WINTER IS UNUSUALLY WARM

Weather Bureau at Washington Authority for Surprise Statement

Washington, March 7.—(AP)—The weather bureau is having a quiet chuckle today at some people who predicted the winter of 1934-35 would be unusually cold.

It turned out to be a very warm winter in almost all the United States. The weather bureau, incidentally, issued no forecast of what the winter would be like.

Between 85 and 90 per cent of the country had a winter warmer than normal. The small portion in the northeast that was colder than normal was not so cold as it was the previous winter.

The official weather bureau winter covers December, January and February. This "official" winter does not quite coincide with the "astronomical winter," which begins December 21 and ends March 21.

But even a cold spell in the next two weeks can not make the astronomical winter a cold one, says J. B. Kincer, weather bureau climatologist.

Trend to Warm Winters

Some unofficial prophets based forecasts of a cold winter on movements of air masses. But the masses actually brought warm weather. Cold polar air moved southward by way of Hudson Bay over eastern Canada, and centered over the northeastern United States. Turning clockwise, this mass helped to maintain prevailing winds from a southerly direction over the rest of the country, sweeping up warm tropical air from the Gulf of Mexico, the weather bureau asserts.

"Since the winter of 1917-18," says the bureau, "there has been a remarkable trend to warm winters in the United States. Fifteen of these 17 winters have been warmer than normal, when the country as a whole is considered, and about half of the 15 show plus departures of temperature for practically all sections of the country."

"Precipitation for the winter, 1934-35, rain, in general, below normal, except in a few areas."

OLD LADY WRATHFUL

Kansas City, March 7.—(AP)—Old mother nature, who didn't do right by the southwestern farmers last summer, still has a long ways to go to make amends for the drought.

She had no more than begun to make reparations for the prolonged dry spell of 1934 in Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas than she brought out a killing freeze or two and unleashed a series of soil lifting dust storms.

The ravages of the old lady's wrath become more defined in moving from east to west in the section.

In Missouri, prospects for winter wheat and barley are reported by crop experts to be generally good, with the greatest threat lying in chinch bugs and the lack of sub-soil moisture.

The permanent pasture outlook is the darkest in the state's history. This coupled with prospects of a light strawberry crop is bad news for strawberry and cream fairs. The Ozark peach crop was hard hit by a freeze.

Wheat Crop Fair.

The condition of the wheat crop in Kansas—the one-time breadbasket of the nation—is described by F. K. Reed, federal agricultural statistician, as fair in central and parts of northeastern Kansas, "but in the west where the drought never has been broken it is as bad or worse, if possible, than a year ago."

Wheat which managed to survive in that part of the state is reported by S. D. Flora, federal meteorologist, to have been seriously damaged by strong winds and dust. Most of the state with the exception of the west and north central portions is fairly well supplied with moisture to start the growing season.

A survey by A. R. Duncan, Oklahoma crop statistician, disclosed that crop prospects in that state are not as good as they were a year ago.

Funeral of Polo Man, Victim of Accident, Will Be on Saturday

Polo, Mar. 7.—The funeral of Howard Iron, who was fatally injured Tuesday evening when he was struck by a car on the Lincoln highway east of Geneva, will be held at his late farm home northwest of Polo at 1:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon and at the Polo Lutheran church at 2. Rev. C. D. Kammerer will officiate and burial will be in Fairmount.

MAYOR UPHELD

Pittsfield, Ill.—(AP)—Circuit Judge J. Fred Wolfe declined to comply with a state liquor commission order that a city beer license be granted to Carl Siegel by Mayor H. H. Vertrees. The mayor declined to comply with the order and Siegel filed suit in Circuit Court.

PREMATURE OIL WELL EXPLOSION IS FATAL TO 10

St. George, Utah, March 7.—(AP)—A premature explosion at an oil well claimed the lives of ten persons last night and injured at least a dozen others gathered to watch the spectacular "shooting" of the first well in this district.

A charge of nitro-glycerine, dropped into the unfinished well, exploded prematurely, ripped the derrick from its moorings and hurled it onto the crowd which surrounded the well. The terrific blast rocked the country-side five miles south of here.

Scores were thrown to the ground. Others were knocked down in the rush to escape the blinding sheet of flame which accompanied the blast.

Manager a Victim

Among the victims was Mr. and Mrs. George Alsop. Alsop was general manager of the Arrowhead Oil Corporation which was drilling the well.

Ellis J. Pickett, St. George attorney, witnessed the tragedy from his motor car, parked about 120 feet from the well.

"I was sitting in my car with Mrs. Pickett, not far from the well," he said. "After the first charge went down, Mrs. Pickett became nervous and I backed my car away another 60 feet. The second charge went down and it exploded before it reached the bottom. The force of the blast tore the top from my car."

WOMAN'S EYE MAY DECIDE A MOOT QUESTION

University Expert to Determine DuPage Co. Treasurer Thurs.?

Chicago, Mar. 7.—(AP)—A woman's word today may determine the next treasurer of populous DuPage county, adjoining Chicago.

The woman is Mrs. Katherine Keeler, 28-year-old expert on documentary evidence of Northwest University's scientific crime detection laboratory and wife of Dr. Leonard Keeler, inventor of the polygraph, or lie detector.

Science, as represented by Mrs. Keeler, one of the few of her sex in her line of work, was called into settle an election contest when John Hesterman, Republican, contended Arthur Hellyer, Democrat, was illegally named treasurer by 14 votes. She will testify as to authenticity of an election judge's initials on 60 contested ballots.

Mrs. Keeler has not become a crime specialist merely as the wife of her perhaps more widely known husband. She is an authority in her own right.

A native of Walla Walla, Wash., she became interested in criminology at Stanford University, where she met Dr. Keeler when both as students were conducting an experiment in psychology.

Prince Anada King of Siam by Nat. Assembly

Bangkok, Siam, March 7.—(AP)—Prince Anada, eleven years old, today was officially proclaimed King of Siam and "Arbiter of the Ebb and Flow of the Tides" as the national assembly voted approval of his accession to the throne abdicated last week by the prince's uncle, Pradjadhipok.

The lad, who is now in Lausanne with his mother, Princess Mahidol, sister-in-law of Pradjadhipok, will govern his people under a regency of three men.

SEEKS INJUNCTION

Chicago.—(AP)—The Morris Coal Company of Morris, Ill., filed a petition for an injunction to restrain Mayor Edward J. Kelly and City Sealers James O'Keefe from interfering with the delivery of coal to Chicago customers. The petition said the city sealer had refused to issue the company a 1935 weighmaster's license, and forced drivers to re-weigh their loads.

McCracken, Former Little Cabinet Officer, Released from Jail Today After Completing 10-Day Sentence

Washington, March 7.—(AP)—William P. McCracken, former Assistant Secretary of Commerce, was released from the District of Columbia jail this morning after serving a ten day sentence for contempt of the United States Senate.

McCracken, wearing a brown business suit hurried out a rear entrance and entered a waiting automobile, evading a group of photographers and reporters at the front door.

Smiling he refused to stop and talk. Asked how he spent his time he replied, "They kept me busy." To another query concerning reading he might have done, he said "I tended to my knitting."

McCracken was sentenced to jail after papers wanted by a senate committee investigating air mail contracts had disappeared from his possession. He began serving the jail term only after taking his fight to escape the sentence to the Supreme Court.

POSITION DEAD HEIRESS CALLED UNNATURAL

Pinehurst, N. C., March 7.—(AP)—The inquest into the death of Mrs. Elva Statler Davidson, beautiful young heiress, drew toward an end today with Solicitor Rowland S. Pruette promising to present evidence of foul play before the transcript of testimony was completed.

As the formal inquest entered its third day, it was revealed by an authoritative source that toxicologists found only carbon monoxide—the deadly fumes from an automobile exhaust—could have caused the death of the 22-year-old bride.

The official autopsy report was ready to be presented to the coroner's jury. Duke University pathologists last Sunday found there was sufficient carbon monoxide in the victim's blood to have caused death.

No other poisons

No other poisonous substance was found, it was reliably reported today. This same source said some alcohol was found also, but not enough to cause intoxication.

Before the inquest opened Tuesday, Solicitor Pruette said he was withholding a "hoax card" which would substantiate his theory of murder, adding he would not reveal it until later. Today he intimated he was ready with his "ace in the hole."

Dr. W. M. Marr of Pinehurst, who was called to the Davidson home after Mrs. Davidson's scantly clad body was found sprawled in her car in the family garage, testified she could hardly have fallen into that position.

"Do you believe Mrs. Davidson fell to the position she was in?" Pruette asked.

"I think her head would have been bruised if she had fallen in that position," the physician replied.

Dr. Marr said his preliminary examination revealed carbon monoxide poisoning as the cause of her death.

Position Impossible

Dr. C. C. Carpenter, who conducted an autopsy told the jury a person overcome by carbon monoxide gas while entering a car, or while seated in it, would not have been in the position her body had taken when found.

Carpenter also testified that bruises found on Mrs. Davidson's body could have been caused by the firm grasp or blows of a human hand. "Could a person in the position Mrs. Davidson was in have fallen from under the steering wheel," he was asked. The reply was a positive "no."

He made a similar reply when asked:

Could a person coming into the garage and walking to the car by the steering wheel have fallen in the position she was in?"

He said the victim, in placing herself or herself there "kneeling on the running board, head on arms on floorboards, would show a tendency to straighten out the limbs when rendered unconscious by carbon monoxide."

He said that alcohol found during the examination of Mrs. Davidson's body was insufficient to have caused intoxication.

Dr. Carpenter of Wake Forest Medical College, already had testified that the final result of the autopsy showed carbon monoxide poisoning to have been the immediate cause of death.

BAIATA TO PRISON

Chicago.—(AP)—Authorities planned to take Joseph Baiata to Joliet penitentiary today to start serving a one to ten years sentence for embezzling $54,600 from a loop bank as part of an alleged plot to loot the Abraham Lincoln Life Insurance Company and an Indiana police bank. Baiata pleaded guilty to the charge.

The measure is a successor to the McLeod bill which provided for 100 per cent payment. It was estimated when that measure was introduced in the house last year that approximately 10,000,000 persons had funds tied up in closed banks. Barmour and Moore said today that in New Jersey alone more than 160,000 depositors would be affected by the present bill.

Would Have Uncle Sam Pay Depositors

Washington, Mar. 7.—(AP)—Depositors in closed national banks would be paid 50 per cent of their money under a bill introduced today by Senator Barbour (R. N. J.) and Senator Moore (D. N. J.).

Funds for the payment would be supplied by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation through the purchase of it of the remaining assets of the banks.

The measure is a successor to the McLeod bill which provided for 100 per cent payment. It was estimated when that measure was introduced in the house last year that approximately 10,000,000 persons had funds tied up in closed banks. Barmour and Moore said today that in New Jersey alone more than 160,000 depositors would be affected by the present bill.

Both Bridges Out

Tim Sullivan, who is one of the few remaining authorities on Dixon history, says that 87 years ago tonight both bridges across Rock river at this point were carried out by ice and high water. Two of the piers of the Illinois Central railroad bridge on the north side of the river and all of the Galena avenue wooden bridge collapsed under the pressure of the heavy ice and high water and were carried away.

Mr. Sullivan said that Charles Hawley, whose death was noted in last evening's Telegraph, was probably the last surviving member of the once famous Dixon hook and ladder running team. In the late 70's the Dixon running team held third place in the United States, Burlington, Vt., being first and Lansing, Mich., second. Prominent citizens of Dixon, now deceased, were members of that notable organization.

NAMES HURLED AT HUEY DON'T STOP HIS TALK

Washington, March 7.—(AP)—Huey P. Long reached for more ammunition today to fire at friends of the Roosevelt administration who, he said, were plotting to wreck his share-the-wealth scheme.

Roosevelt leaders in the senate apparently stood ready to whale away at him whenever he started an attack in that chamber.

The Louisiana dictator, center of a furor for several days, gave no sign of subsiding. Names tossed at him in the senate and elsewhere—"demagogue," "madman," plausible Punciello—led him to swear vengeance.

First on the list of those he planned to attack in a speech was Hugh S. Johnson, Administrator Johnson denounced him a few days ago. He has encountered Democratic leader Robinson and others in several senate bouts.

Charges Plot Against Him

"Since Johnson made his speech, it has developed that it was just the beginning of a plan by that gang to try and wreck the share-the-wealth movement," Long told newspapermen as he planned his campaign for today.

The Louisiana filed into the senate record yesterday a long list of charges against Postmaster General Farley. After these were received the committee which is considering his demand for a senate investigation of Farley decided to request reports from the agencies mentioned in the charges—the justice and public works departments and reconstruction corporation. A decision as to whether an investigation shall be conducted was not expected today, although the committee planned to meet.

At Richmond, Virginia, where Farley addressed a meeting of Democrats last night, Senator Byrd (D-Va.) ridiculed Long's charges against the postmaster general.

Drag Race in Hunt for Body of James Bradley: Lost Week

The turbines at the Illinois Northern Utilities Company hydro plant were shut off at noon today, while employees searched in the race for the body of James Bradley, who disappeared mysteriously one week ago tonight. Long handled rakes had been provided to scrape the grating bars which protect the intakes to the turbines from the entrance of foreign substances into the machinery, to determine whether the body had lodged in the pool. Members of the family of the missing man had suspected that he may have fallen into the pool last Thursday night, and the search today was made by the I. N. U. company in an effort to locate the body in the event that it may have fallen into the pool. C. J. McLean, hydraulic engineer for the I. N. U. company arranged for the closing down of the turbines and other operations.

Sheriff Made Head Lee's Arson Squad: Members Not Paid

State Fire Marshal Sherman V. Coulas of Springfield is organizing arson squads in every county in Illinois and today named Sheriff Ward T. Miller chairman of the Lee county squad. He is to select assistants throughout the county, who will be appointed at the state fire marshal's office to assist in investigating all fires in the county and when incineration is indicated special investigators from the state office will be sent to Lee county to carry on the investigations. There is no compensation for the duties of the county squad and their services are intended to reduce fire losses and launch investigation into fires which may be of incendiary origin. A similar organization has been in existence in Dixon for the past few years; its investigations being limited to the city.

EX-CONVICT HAD LARGE ESTATE POLICE CHARGE

Chicago, March 7.—(AP)—With five persons in custody and a sixth sought, police and investigators for the public administrator's office moved today to clear up an alleged conspiracy to seize the $100,000 estate of an ex-convict who died Saturday.

Although he possessed a fortune—police have recovered $75,000 so far—the ex-convict, James Thomas Kelly, 62, preferred to live in a west side flop-house at 25 cents a day.

Held by police the conspirators are Mrs. Belle Butman, 42, operator of the flop-house and chief beneficiary in a will purported to have been left by Kelly; Attorney Julius P. Waitches, another beneficiary; John J. Bagdonas, 43, south side undertaker, also a beneficiary, who is seeking $4,500 for funeral expenses and "other favors," and two witnesses to the will.

The latter two are Paul P. Zalink, 45, who described himself as a priest and is a painter by profession, and John Dailly, 54. The witnesses, police said, confessed participation in the plot admitting that they signed the purported will after the death of Kelly. Zalink and Dailly, police said, were to receive $100 each for their signatures. Mrs. Butman, Bagdonas and the lawyer made no admissions.

VINSON BONUS BILL WILL BE REPORTED OUT

However, House is to be Given Chance to Vote Patman Bill

Washington, March 7.—(AP)—The ways and means committee voted 23 to 1 today to submit the Vinson bonus payment bill to the house, but agreed to procedure under which the Patman currency expansion method of payment may be offered as a substitute on the floor.

Chairman Doughton (D-N.C.) said, however, that the formal report on the bonus would not be submitted to the house until next Monday. Therefore, it would be Tuesday or Wednesday before the question could be brought to a vote.

The committee today, by a vote of 14 to 10, instructed Doughton to ask the rules committee to let the house have a direct vote on whether it preferred the Patman or the Vinson methods of payment.

The Vinson bill, which has the support of the American Legion, simply authorizes an appropriation out of general treasury funds, whereas the Patman bill would direct the issuance of sufficient new currency to buy up adjusted compensation certificates.

Free Lectures on Russia Friday Eve at Sterling Elks

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Waters of Madison, Wis., who for several years represented an American machinery company in Russia, will deliver addresses at a public meeting at the Elks Club in Sterling, Friday at 8:00 P. M.

Mr. and Mrs. Waters have excellent accounts of their experiences. They give interesting statements of events that they witnessed in Russia and which the average tourist is not permitted to view. They describe the break down in religion, the disintegration of family life and the wholesale cruelty to men, women and children.

They are touring the United States in connection with a nation wide program sponsored by the Order of Elks.

The meeting is open to the public and there will be no admission charge or contribution requested.

SEEK DEBATE SITE

Quincy, Ill.—(AP)—The Chamber of Commerce held a meeting to attempt to determine the exact spot in the public square where Abraham Lincoln and Stephen A. Douglas debated in 1858. A marker will be placed when the location has been decided.

Scotland Yard Baffled by Theft of $107,000 from Airport Safe Seventy Yards from Police Office

Croydon, Eng., March 7.—(AP)—Two rewards, totalling $10,000, were offered today for information leading to the solution of Croydon airport's vanished gold mystery.

They found the gold missing from an apparently untouched vault. The outer door of the safe was locked. There were no fingerprints. There was no sign of forcing and only the inner door of the safe was ajar.

A police station is only 70 yards away from the strong room of the airport. No one saw any strangers enter or leave the office.

But the gold is missing.

STERLING MAN'S RE-EMPLOYMENT PLAN REVEALED

Irving Scham Presents Scheme to White House Today

Washington, March 7.—(AP)—The Irving Scham plan for reemployment was presented to Marvin McIntyre, secretary to President Roosevelt, by Scham, a shoe salesman of Sterling, Ill., and Representative Allen (R. Ill.).

Scham, who suggests that 5,000-6,000 unemployed men be put back on their old jobs at government expense, left immediately after the conference for New York City.

"I proposed to Mr. McIntyre," Scham said, "that every person receiving money through relief be classified according to profession, trade or vocation."

"That these unemployed persons be placed for six months, or a longer period if necessary, at a job to which they are fitted: Their salary to be determined by the NRA wages existing in each respective territory and paid by the government. Only NRA approved concerns are to receive extra help. Regular employees must not be discharged unless a tangible reason exists."

"That the present relief commission be placed in charge of classifying, and placing the unemployed in NRA approved shops, business houses, etc."

Little Alyce Seems Brighter: Retained Food Doctors' Note

Fall River, Mass., March 7.—(AP)—Alyce Jane McHenry, 10-year-old Omaha, Neb., girl, operated upon Monday at Triunfado hospital to correct her inverted stomach, appeared brighter today and "has retained food for the past 24 hours."

A bulletin issued by Dr. George B. King and Dr. L. W. Hill said: "Temperature 100.2, pulse 110, respiration 20. Alyce slept more last night than during the previous day and appeared to be brighter today. She has retained food for past 24 hours. Same diet today, beef broth, cereal and orange juice."

Rebel Vessels Threaten Bombardment of Port of Athens

BULLETIN.

Athens, March 7.—(AP)—The islands of Samos and Chios capitulated to the rebels today after a visit by the ships of the rebel fleet, it was officially announced.

THREATEN BOMBARDMENT.

(Copyright by The Associated Press.)

Gheghelli, Greek Yugoslav frontier, March 7.—Reports reaching this frontier today today said Admiral Demestichos, commanding the rebel fleet, had wireless the Greek cabinet that he would bombard Piraeus, the port of Athens, unless the government capitulated immediately.

(The British battleship Royal Sovereign and the French destroyer Verdun are in the harbor threatened by bombardment.)

Meantime the rebels showed no signs of surrender.

To add to the government's worries, it was reported today that unemployed in the great tobacco growing district of Kavala had issued a proclamation against the government.

Many American tobacco companies have offices, works and warehouses in Kavala.

IN EAST MACEDONIA.

(Copyright, 1935, by The Associated Press.)

Athens, Greece, March 7.—A floodstream of government troops, their ranks bristling with heavy artillery, poured through the Struma valley today intent on crushing the embattled Macedonian rebels.

Baffled by heavy rain and mist for the last 24 hours, the loyalist forces hailed clearing skies as the signal for launching the mass offensive they hope will exterminate the revolutionary activity in the Salonika section.

The troops, estimated to total 80,000 men, outnumbering the insurgents eight to one, were deployed along a wide front for their offensive.

As the army moved up to the battle line, the rumble of its progress was punctuated by a staccato hammering on the banks of the Struma, where military engineers were reconstructing the bridge the rebels burned to cover their retreat.

Wait Knee Deep in Mud.

The rebels waited the "zero hour" knee deep in mud in weather-beaten old trenches which have striped the Salonika plain since World War days.

Their contingents were stretched along the front line from Doiran Lake to the mouth of the Struma which British troops held in 1917 and 1918.

The possibility that the insurgents on land might receive aid from the sea arose as the cruiser Averoff flagship of show fleet, anchored off the island of Mytilene and landed a detachment of marines.

The island is off the Turkish coast and within easy reach of Kavala, still held by the rebels despite a violent bombing yesterday.

Inhabitants Surprised

The Averoff's landing force, taking inhabitants of Mytilene by surprise, posted pickets about the docks and warehouses. It was not immediately plain whether they intended to hold the town or whether to proceed after replenishing their supplies.

Both Premier Tsaldaris and General George Kondylis, Minister of War, confidently forecast the uprising would collapse as soon as the government forces unleashed their attack. Among many neutral observers in the country, however, the situation was viewed as still highly dangerous.

The civil war's toll of lives, the exact extent of which has been concealed by government censorship, mounted meanwhile, in sporadic aerial bombing and ground sorties yesterday and today.

Twenty government planes let loose a terrific bombardment over the ancient Aegean seaport of Kavala yesterday and strafed the coastal community with machine gun fire after it had been occupied by revolutionists.

Bitter hand-to-hand street fighting followed the air attack as local residents of the port attempted to repel the rebel invaders.

Soon afterward army bombers rained death on a revolutionary camp near Seres from which the insurgents were ejected in furious fighting two days ago.

MORE AUTO LICENSES

Springfield, Ill., March 7.—(AP)—Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes today said his office had collected $123,400 in automobile license fees at the end of February, an increase of $1,475,000 over last year.

Sally Rand of Fan Dance Fame Wants to Do Shakespeare
New York, March 7.—(AP)—Fans and bubbles inspire Sally Rand with little more than ennui. The blonde dancer who rose to undorname fame in the "Streets of Paris" at the Chicago World's Fair wants to become a Shakespearean actress.
"When this time of earning has passed, I'm going to change—not precipitously, but eventually," she said today.
"Is there any particular bit of Shakespeare you want to do?"
"Portia," she whispered. "I like Portia!"
While awaiting her opportunity as Portia, Miss Rand isn't neglecting her dancing art.
Just now, she said, she is experimenting with a Japanese number, the oriental fans being much smaller than the huge ostrich feathers that first waited her into the spotlight; but a flowing kimono cloaks all but a modest glimpse of an ankle.

HOW STORY STARTED
The origin of a report that Sheriff Ward Miller was the victim of an airplane accident last week became known to the Lee county official today. In a newspaper clipping from Lamar, Mo., it was stated that an airplane fell in the city square at that place Friday, March 1, killing Maurice Bassett, Barton county, Mo., deputy sheriff and critically injuring Ward Millard, pilot and Rex Thomas. The accident was broadcast in news dispatches and the similarity of names of the pilot led several Lee county residents to suspect that the victim was the Lee county sheriff.

Forty-three local decorators saw and heard the presentation of Imperial washable wall papers and new ideas in interior and exterior decorating for 1935.
The meeting was not only called to present facts about washable wall papers, which since their introduction a year ago, have revolutionized decoration, but also for the purpose of giving the headline news of coming designs.
Consideration of IERC Organization Goes Over One Week
Springfield, Ill., March 7.—(AP)—Considering amendments with less than forty members present, the house today postponed until next Wednesday an attempt to advance the O'Neill and Burns-Lyons bills for the local administration of unemployment relief.
Mrs. Lottie Holman O'Neill of Downer's Grove and Richard J. Lyons of Libertyville, Republicans, attempted to get the bills advanced to third reading. They failed, however, when the house left them in the amendment stage and made them a special order of business for Wednesday morning.
Both bills would return the actual administration of relief, in the form of cash only, to the counties. The O'Neill bill was amended, an emergency clause being attached. It would abolish the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission, providing that the governor shall distribute state and federal funds to the counties. Another amendment added the words, "as deemed necessary by him."

Enjoyed Delightful Trip to Fla.
Dr. and Mrs. Z. W. Moss returned Tuesday night from Florida, where they have been spending the past two weeks, traveling by motor. They spent most of the time at Palm Springs and enjoyed many side trips from there. They greatly enjoyed a visit to the Hialeah race tracks.
A sight the doctor said he never would forget was that of a group of flamingoes, in their vivid pink, sailing gracefully over the water, mingling with their sister birds, the beautiful white swans. There are so many sights of interest to the Northerner—the large trees from which the southern moss hangs in graceful festoons and the luxuriant growth of all things green. And—never forget this most important item—southern cookery—which is something to talk about, and—if one indulges too heavily—something to dream about, too. Dr. and Mrs. Moss visited the Charles Walgreens and their party at Boca Raton, where they are enjoying the winter. On their way north again, Dr. and Mrs. Moss spent the week end in Chattanooga. Dr. Moss is a native of the south and very so often the yen overtakes him for things southern. They report a most delightful time and both the doctor and his charming wife have accumulated a generous coat of tan.

A NEW SPIRIT

(By Joseph Fort Newton.)
ANDERSON of Oundie, a great and dear teacher, gives it as his experience that when we appeal to the constructive rather than the inquisitive instinct, we get a new type of youth.

"What youth loves to do," he added, "is to take part in some great work that must be done for the community; some work that goes beyond themselves—a spacious, worthwhile work for the good of all."

The late John Galsworthy reached the same truth in all his later novels. Since the World War, he said, the younger generation has become indifferent to owning things and wants to do things. Our young men and women today see that the curse of civilization, the open sore at the core of society is the passion to get, to possess, to keep—just sheer greed—and they want to do away with it.

In its place, said Galsworthy, they would put the urge to create, to do something for the common good—the most inspiring of all motives of acquisition. If they seem to be cynics, he insists, it is because they are disgusted by the grabbing, grasping older set.

If this is true, we have little to fear in the new age, and the more quickly youth climbs into power, and dislodges those still under the dominion of the old spirit, the better it will be.

Once the idea catches on that it is better to create than merely to have, and that happiness lies in doing things worth while for the community, it will sweep everything before it—nothing can stop it.

Here, it is pointed out, is the secret of the new collective movements in Europe. The method may be wrong, but it is the new solidarity of youth in behalf of the national well-being that explains it. In Germany, in Russia, in Italy, youth is in the saddle. It has given up preying and pleasuring, and finds joy in sacrificing all for the victory of something greater than itself—the nation.

If at first it makes nationalism a ruthless religion, it will yet redeem the race from the go-getters and set it free!

March 11 and 12 were set as the dates for the first two of the remaining four sessions of the training course to be given by Mrs. Hardy which will conclude the course outlined by Miss Alsop in February.

Review by Miss Eus-

tace Very Pleasing

Miss Anne Eustace reviewed

Henry Sidell Canby's book "The Age of Confidence," at the Book

Talk sponsored by the Literature

Department of the Dixon Woman's Club, March 6th in the music room at the high school. There was a large audience who were most pleased with this review. Miss

Eustace reviewed the book in vivid, interesting language.

The book tells of the life of a young man in a small eastern town where the social lines were most strictly drawn. His comparisons of life in the 1890's and the present time were most enlightening. W.

of the 1930's have both gained and lost.

The next book review will be given by B. J. Frazer on April 3rd.

How Can It Be?

By Helen Welshimer

HOW can it be,

When the sun shines so,

And green aproned trees

DOWN the avenue,

Round the park,

All of a sudden

The world seems dark?

UNLESS it can be

This obscure shade

Comes from the shadow

Child of Today Wants Scientific Facts, Not Morals

Chicago, March 7.—(AP)—Mrs.

John Schacht, Moline, urged the teaching of social hygiene on a scientific and unemotional basis at a session of the Illinois Congress of parents and Teachers yesterday.

Don't try to moralize to a child today," Mrs. Schacht said. "Teach him the scientific facts of sex frankly and without emotion. Children want scientific facts, not morals, and they shrink from those so-called heart-to-heart talks."

She suggested that sports, art, literature and dancing be encouraged as emotional outlets for children.

EUGENE GRACE BOOSTS THE SOLDIERS' BONUS!

If the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars decide that enactment by Congress of a bill for a cash bonus for war veterans is in the bag, now, as a result of the activities of the Senate Munitions Committee, one can hardly blame them.

First of all, Eugene Grace testified. Mr. Grace drew down something like $3,000,000 in bonuses during the war period; but he thinks that workers in munitions plants in future wars should get a soldier's pay, he feels that it would be very unfortunate if the same rule were applied to executives, and he believes that the demand for the soldiers' bonus now is "very unfortunate."

Then the investigators began to get curious about the doings of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation, which operated during the war as a subsidiary of Bethlehem Steel. During the war Charles Schwab, who held 37 per cent of all voting stock in Bethlehem Steel, was director general of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, which was letting government shipbuilding contracts.

First they examined a war-time letter written by an admiral in the navy, charging that Bethlehem demanded high prices for its ships and refused to stand behind delivery dates.

Then they looked at a report from a special examiner for the Fleet Corporation which asserted that the "enormous profits" made by Bethlehem showed that Bethlehem's contracts "were unconscionable and against public interest."

Next they dug into Fleet Corporation records showing that while other shipbuilders were averaging a profit of $10 a ton on ships built for the government, Bethlehem was making $49.50 for a profit of better than 20 per cent. Furthermore, the examiner pointed out that this 20 per cent profit was not profit on Bethlehem's invested funds, but on a cost that had to be financed by the Fleet Corporation itself.

Now when you add all of this up you get a fairly ugly picture. It is the sort of picture which probably is unavoidable in war-time, unless some new and drastic method of controlling the munitions industry and its profits be adopted; but it does put the soldiers' bonus bill in a different light.

Mediating on Mr. Grace and his bonuses, and Mr. Schwab and his ships, it is a little hard to get very indignant over the question of a bonus for fighting men.

BLACK MAGIC IN AMERICA

If you are ever inclined to feel that public education has been pushed about as far as it need be pushed in modern America, you might find it helpful to reflect on these strange "hex" cases that continue to pop up in Pennsylvania.

The latest is a case in which a 5-year-old boy was "cured of a spell" by a witch doctor. The fact that the child, after being "cured," got a butcher knife and carved his 8-month-old brother almost to death, does not shake the parents' faith in the efficacy of the hexer's mumbo-jumbo.

Now Pennsylvania is far from being a backward state. The general level of intelligence and education there is probably above the national average.

Yet even in Pennsylvania there lingers this relic of medieval belief in black magic!

Could there be a more striking example of the need for broader and more thorough educational policies?

22 YEARS FOR GOOD

Although much of the "charity work" previously done by private organizations is now financed by federal government appropriations, the old-fashioned Community Chest remains the backbone of local efforts to help the unfortunate; and it is worth noting that March 1 is the 22nd anniversary of the formation of the first organization of that kind in America.

This took place in Cleveland, O., when the Federation for Charity and Philanthropy—later to be known as the Community Fund—was founded in 1913. The idea proved to be such a good one that it was widely copied. Today there are 414 Community Chests in as many American cities.

The Community Chest has led to greater efficiency and better service in community social work. The anniversary of its inception is worth more than a passing glance in commemoration.

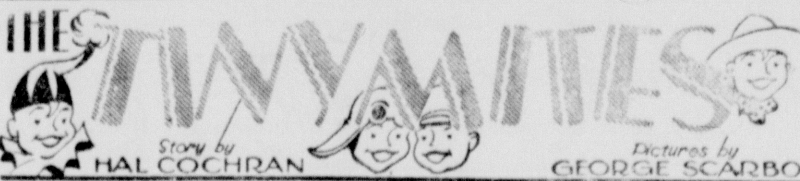

It is better for boys and girls to learn to entertain themselves than for them to be given so much money for movies and elaborate social affairs. — Dr. Thurman B. Rice, of Indiana University Medical School.

I wish I had lived 10 years sooner. I would be in the big dough fighting guys like Dempsey and Tunney. — Max Baer.

The movies have speeded up the tempo of the novel. Dr. Archibald J. Cronin, Scottish novelist.

I consider the words of an opera just as important as the music. — Walter Damrosch, famous director.

Most men know more at 30 than they did at 20. — Gary Cooper.

The plasterers tolled with a will. "Gee, I should think they would get their fill of working," said wee Dotty. "They must think it's lots of fun."

"They just keep going, very fast. I wonder how long they can last." "Why, they'll keep working," said the giant, "till their work is done. If everybody did that way, they would have a lot more time for play. The trouble is, too many people loaf, instead of work."

"Now, here is a lesson you can learn. The best and quickest way to earn respect from everybody is to never have time to shirk."

Just then the Tines heard a shout. "We are coming down, now, tots. Look out. We have finished our old giant's house and it looks just like new."

The plasterer who had yelled then slid down to the ground. The other did the same thing, and fair Goldy cried, "I'll bet you are glad you're through."

(The Tines see a very strange hen in the next story.)

WEEKLY SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Peter Preaches to Gentiles

Text: Acts 10:34-48.

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for March 10. By WM. E. GILROY, D. D. (Editor of Advance.)

The titles of this lesson are interesting and significant. The general title, "Peter Preaches to the Gentiles," based upon the text of the lesson, is changed for title-based more upon its application to its reference to intermediate and senior groups, and to young people and adults.

The intermediate and senior topic is "The Gospel for All," and the topic for young people and adults is "Overcoming Racial and National Prejudices."

The truth that God is no respecter of persons would seem to be written all over the New Testament and to be inherent in the gospel of grace that Jesus gave to men.

To believe that God is a being who is arbitrary in His judgments, whose grace is moved with considerations of preference for a man of one color above another, or of a man of one race or nation above another, would be to destroy the greatness of God and make him a creature of biases and prejudices.

The impartiality of God's judgments is a condition of the integrity and righteousness of His judgments.

Yet even among religious people few prejudices are harder to overcome than the prejudices of color, race, and national allegiance. Peter was no exception.

Despite the fact that he had left all things to follow Jesus and was concerned about the salvation of men, the instinctive, or developed prejudices of Peter's religious training and environment came immediately into prominence as soon as there was a time of testing. He was accustomed to think of Jews as a preferred and chosen people who had a sort of monopoly in religious privilege and truth.

When he found the gospel having the same effect upon Gentiles that it had upon Jews, and Gentiles becoming interested in the power of the Gospel, he was very frankly embarrassed. He did not know what to make of it.

It required a vision from heaven with great clearness of application to shake Peter out of his prejudices; and he was compelled to recognize that what God had cleansed was neither common nor unclean.

The one fine thing about Peter was that once he really perceived a thing, he was very bold and decisive in acknowledging it.

His vision might become again shadowed or confused, and he might lapse from his high moments, but his impulsiveness led him to frank avowal of his own narrowness and his own error when he perceived a larger and nobler way.

It was the experience of large contacts and larger outlook in religion that changed Peter. That, after all, is the way in which most people are changed. We find it easy to be narrow and prejudiced because our religious experience is so small.

When Peter found that Cornel and prejudices and misun-derstanding. The essence of the Gospel, it men would preach it and live it. That is in harmony with the grace of God, and that is as impartial and all-reaching in its manifesta-tions as the love of God.

SUMMER STYLES SPRING FROM WINTER MODES IN SOUTH

RESORT COSTUMES OF FASHIONABLE WOMEN SHOW TRENDS

This trim jersey beach costume made Mrs. William R. Howard of Baltimore a prize winner at Palm Beach, Fla.

Florence Roome of New York, attending a polo match at Delray, Fla., makes a coarse yarn sweater with short sleeves and a linen skirt seem the ideal spectator sports outfit.

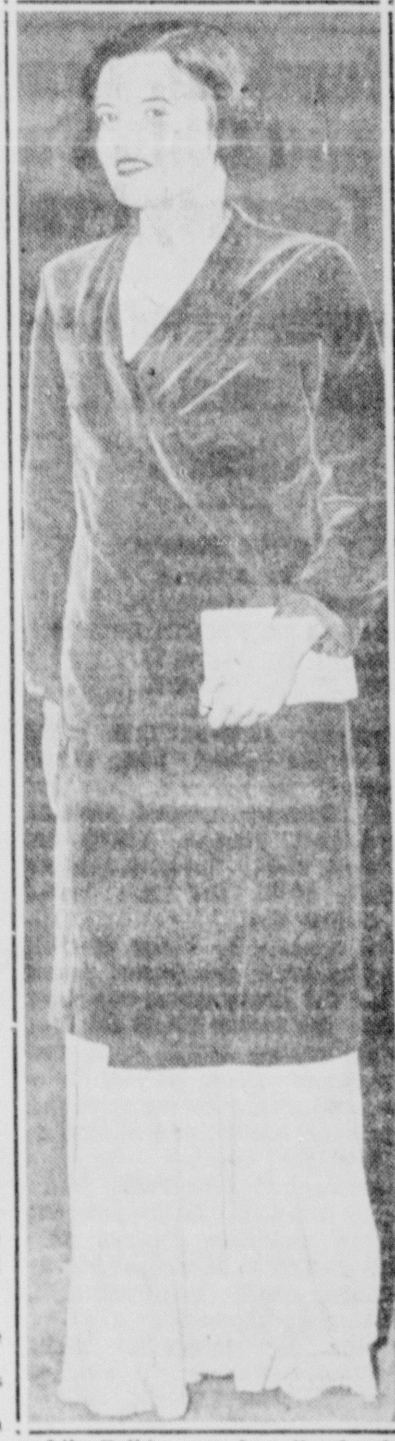

Mrs. Clarence Wheelwright (left) wears a velvet evening wrap with ruffled collar, while Mrs. Baldwin Spilman appears in a jacket of new rough pile novelty fabric to attend a smart Palm Beach benefit ball.

The frilly collar and cuffs on Sophie Tucker's (left) evening gown is popular among fashionable mature women and contrasts with the youthful halter necked rough crepe evening gown worn by the charming Countess of Warwick.

The beach skirt of zebra stripe rubberized moire got the judge's eye at a fashion show in Palm Beach. Loris Tucker also wears a jersey brassiere and white linen sun hat.

Lily Polk's severely tailored velvet evening coat won admiration at a Palm Beach function where smart women gathered.

ASHTON NEWS

Ashton — Rev. and Mrs. L. E. Winter, pastor of the Methodist church, were very ably assisted in celebrating their 14th wedding anniversary which occurred Saturday when, following the church service Sunday morning the congregation gathered in the dining room of the church where a picnic dinner was served at eight large tables seating 100. Word had been quickly passed around Saturday and preparation rapidly made which terminated in a bounteous dinner very much enjoyed by all.

The table at which the guests of honor were seated was daintily appointed for the occasion with pink and white flowers, and lighted candles in tall holders, the center piece being a pink and white cake bearing the dates "1921-1935" and a miniature bride and groom. Rev. Winter expressed their appreciation for the dinner in their honor and announced that the day also marked the 14th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vogeler.

Many articles for an old fashioned "pound party" brought by the guests were secreted in the back of the church kitchen, and during the dinner were transferred by a number of the young people to the parsonage kitchen where they were discovered by Rev. and Mrs. Winter upon their return home late in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Calhoun and family moved Monday from the McCade residence south of the tracks to the Presbyterian manse recently vacated by the Wallace Clover family. Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Plum expect to occupy the McCade house.

Isaac Trask was a guest Sunday at the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. James McLaughlin at the Eldena Evangelical church. Plates were laid for 60 relatives and friends and the delicious wedding dinner was followed by an interesting program of appropriate numbers.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wisman entertained Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Randall and daughter, Mrs. Crawford Thomas and son Wayne, of Dixon, at their home Saturday.

The winners at the preliminary contest held at DeKalb Friday, were Miss Roanne Henert in dramatic declamation, Richard Stevens in tenor solo and Herbert Schaller in baritone. These three young people will appear again in the sub-district contest to be held at Mt. Morris on Saturday, March 16th.

Isaac Trask marketed a truck load of horses in Chicago Tuesday afternoon.

Burnell Wisman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wisman, and Miss Doris Ogle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Ogle of Rochelle, were united in marriage at 2 P. M. Saturday at the home of Rev. Fred A. Graham, pastor of the Avondale Methodist church, Chicago, and former pastor of the Ashton Methodist church.

He is now a teacher in the Eureka School, northeast of Ashton. Mrs. Wisman is a graduate of the Rochelle high school. Mr. and Mrs. Wisman will make their home for the present at the home of the bride's parents at Rochelle.

Mrs. Andrew Kaecker was hostess to a group of ladies at her home Thursday afternoon in honor of her guest, Mrs. William Faber of Minnesota. Progressive bunco was the entertainment of the afternoon, at the close of which delicious refreshments were served. In the evening Mr. and Mrs. Kaecker entertained eight couples at progressive 500 in honor of their guest, tempting refreshments completing the pleasant evening.

Miss Gladys Albrecht, daughter of Mrs. Anna E. Albrecht, and John Voss, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Voss, were united in marriage at the Lutheran church Saturday evening at eight o'clock, the pastor Rev. F. W. Henke officiating in the single ring ceremony. The couple was attended by Miss Hanna Mierath and Marcus Albright, Jr. The newlyweds will be at home to their many friends after their honeymoon. They will remain with her mother for the time being.

Plans sponsored by the Ashton's Woman's Club are now under way for a two weeks union vacation Bible school, to be held following the close of school in June. A committee has been named to complete the plans, Rev. L. E. Winter, pastor of the Methodist church being appointed as chairman of the group consisting of Mrs. P. O. Bailey, Mrs. Orno Kersten, Mrs. W. F. Kleingebel, Mrs. Glen Rosecrans, Mrs. Wallace Clover and Rev. C. P. Blekking.

Harmon was ahead 13 to 10 at half time and 21-16 in the third period. Considine, Harmon forward took nine points and shared high tally honors with Kaufman, Compton forward who also took nine. Studebaker, Franklin Grove forward, totalled all but two of his team's nine tallies. Farringer, guard shared the only other basket for the losers. Franklin Grove failed to score in either the second or the fourth period, but managed to equal the Mendotas 6 to 6 in the third frame.

OHIO Buries LEE CENTER

Ohio's fighting team swamped Lee Center 40 to 9. The winners substituted freely as the game progressed and finished the contest with two freshmen, a sophomore and a junior in their line-up ranging from 12 to 15 years of age. Limiting the Centerites to a lone goal and a free toss the first half Ohio piled up a 23-3 lead at half time and controlled a 32-3 margin in the third stanza. Lee Center failed to reach the hoop at all in the third frame but McBride, a substitute forward and Cox, also a sub gave the losers six more scores with which to console themselves in the last period. D. Allbrecht, lanky Ohio center, with nine points was the winner's main offensive cog.

The Knacks can elbow in a tie for second place by winning their next two games.

SANDOVAL IS STEAM ROLLER BY 124-3 SCORE

District Tourneys Replete With Runaways

Chicago, March 7.—(AP)—Quincy's Indians had their first scalp in defense of the state high school basketball championship today as they played in the district tournaments reached its peak.

The 1934 title winners opened their campaign last night with a decisive if not particularly impressive victory over Mendon, 39 to 13. The first of the standouts to be eliminated was Batavia, champion of the Little Seven conference with 17 victories in 18 games, which lost a heart-breaker to Geneva, 21 to 19. The winning points were scored by Smith, Geneva forward, who dropped in a field goal before the timer could notify officials that Smith had four personal fouls. Batavia defeated Geneva twice during the regular season.

Sandoval Wins 124-3

The high scoring spurge of the tournaments was produced at Ashley where the members of the Sandoval team became arm and leg weary crushing Oakdale 124 to 3, at a four-point-a-minute pace. Olney also passed the century mark by blistering Parkersburg, 107 to 12. Johnson City, southern Illinois' favorite for state honors, trounced Cambria, 79 to 6. Peoria Central poured it on Yates City, 71 to 12.

The defensive gems were turned in by East Moline and Rockford in the former defeating Cordova, 61 to 1, and the latter running up 50 points to Poplar Grove's single free throw. Pittsfield defeated Rockport, 64 to 3 and Decatur escorted Argenta out of the tournament, 31 to 4.

State Hospital Will Entertain Brown Shoe Team

Dixon's Brown Shoe Co. quint will be the guests of the Dixon State Hospital Yellowjackets in a hoop tilt on the Hospital court tonight at 8 P. M.

The Shoe Factory team will be struggling for its first victory having lost a double-header contest to the Lee Center team at Lee Center recently. The Factorymen in that twin bill, lost the first game 33 to 7, and the second 22 to 15. Not much is known as to their strength but such men as Cook and Noakes are expected to cause the Yellowjackets plenty of worry.

The Yellowjackets will have the usual advantage of experience on their slippery home floor. This may prove an insurmountable handicap to the Shoemen. Whether Mansfield will be able to cavort at center in the State's line-up will depend on how his ankle has improved since he twisted it in the Ashton game Tuesday night. Other members likely to see action tonight who did not play in the loop contests, are Tony Guzzardo and Phelps. Windy Windward is expected to bear the brunt of the Hospital scoring attack as usual. "Charlie Chase" Kesseling heartened by his two field goals against Ashton will be a certain contestant in the Yellowjacket line-up.

Belvidere 33; Rockton 21.

SOFT BALL LOOP MAY BE EXPANDED AT COMING MEET

National Assn. Suggests Freeport, Rockford Be Included in League

With almost four inches of snow covering the ground and a stiff cold wind blowing, talk today turned to the possibility of organizing a soft ball league of northwestern Illinois cities today. Last year, the first season for organized soft ball play, saw the Belier Loafers, Dixon's representative team in the Rock River Valley league, step to the front and lead every other team in the United States for honors. At the present time the Dixon franchise in the National Softball Association is held by George Beier of the Belier bakery.

Word today from the national headquarters at Chicago indicated plans for the organization of a new and larger circuit to include Rockford, Freeport and Belvidere, all of which have applied for franchises. Howard E. Forman, assistant to President Philip G. Rosier of the National Softball Association, today requested President Ward Miller of the Rock River Valley league to call a meeting of that organization during the week of March 18 when plans will be discussed for the proposed expansion of the league to include the larger northern Illinois cities.

Expect Opposition

It was expected that opposition to this plan would immediately result on account of the distance to be travelled between Dixon and Belvidere, which was the first consideration. Belvidere was well represented in the Rock River Valley loop last season, several players from that city spending the greater part of the season in Oregon uniforms. Rockford and Freeport are entire new comers and while the officials of the national organization contend that with their addition into the present circuit the league would be considerably strengthened, local leaders entertain other views.

For Compact Loop

Those interested in the sport locally favor a compact league to be composed of towns within at least a 25 mile radius. The fact that with two large athletic fields in the city, the local league is still without a park for staging their scheduled games, is another drawback which is hindering organization progress. Several plans have been suggested for the locating of a field within the city limits which can be lighted and thus prevent games being played some distance from the city.

Dixon made the finest showing in the National association in 1934 of any club in the United States in the first season of organized softball. The season was a very successful one and the game furnishes ed entertainment for thousands of fans in Dixon and vicinity. Many of these fans have already started discussing the prospects for the 1935 season. From all indications the Reynolds athletic field will not be ready for use for at least another year and the officials of both the Rock River Valley league and the city circuit are in a quandary as to where games can be played even with the organization perfected.

SHOE FACTORIES IN SMALL CITIES FACE EXTINCTION

Plans of Eastern Manufacturers Would Ruin Smaller Plants

St. Louis, Mar. 7.—A fight is being made by various groups of the shoe industry in eastern Massachusetts to have the boot and shoe code rewritten to their own sectional advantage, it is charged by manufacturers of the middle west.

At a recent NRA hearing in Washington, these groups demanded, among other things, that the population wage differential be removed from the code.

"Adoption of such a provision," according to A. M. Burton, secretary of the St. Louis Shoe Manufacturers' Association, "would inflict untold injury on the shoe manufacturers of the Middle West, their employees, and the communities in which they operate their plants."

Mr. Burton stated that the proposal to place the town's wage scale on a par with that of the city, without regard to the economic realities, constitutes a threat to the small town's very right to exist.

"For many years," he said, "long before the NRA came into existence," St. Louis shoe companies have operated plants in outlying communities.

Small Town Advantages.
"There is certainly a sound economic reason for this. The small town has natural, inherent advantages as a production center. Living, the manufacturer's rent, taxes and other costs are lower, and the consequent savings are passed on by the manufacturer to the consumer in the form of lower priced merchandise.

"For the past 20 years, the small town has looked on helplessly while the automobile and hard roads erased much of its importance as a trading center. This business has been transferred to the larger community and to the city.

"What was left to sustain the small town, to give it an excuse for being? Simply this: its natural economic advantages as a production center.

"Action by the NRA to eliminate the population differential in the boot and shoe code would be equivalent to placing an artificial restriction on this normal, natural and inherent advantage of the small town in favor of the city, which already enjoys an overwhelming edge in the nation's industrial and commercial set-up.

Would Hurt Small Town.
"If the town and city wage scales in the shoe code and other manufacturing codes are placed on the same level, it would knock one of the last remaining props from under the small town's economic structure. For it must not be forgotten that the city also has its advantages as a production center. For one thing, it is the marketing center. Wage scales being equal, efficient operation would demand that the manufacturer concentrate his plants in the city.

"Conceivably, with the population differential removed by decree, the little town would eventually become nothing more than a beautiful place of abode for the well-to-do. The wage earners would be forced to evacuate to the cities, following their jobs—any jobs—or further swell the relief rolls, and the small town would be effaced from any significant place in the scheme of things.

"These Massachusetts' groups claim that the population differential in the code has caused shoe manufacturers in that section to migrate from the cities to the surrounding lower wage districts. Surely, that is not sufficient cause for the NRA to penalize the manufacturers of the Middle West, most of whom have operated in smaller communities for years, dealing fairly with their employees and the consuming public.

Genuine Concession.
"In recommending the shoe code to the President, Administrator Johnson had this to say of the population differential: 'the amount of the differential provided in the code is far less than the differential which, as a fact, has existed. In other words the inclusion of the present differential in the code represented a genuine concession on the part of the manufacturers operating in the small towns. If the code is to be revised, actual conditions justify an even greater differential than is authorized at present, rather than lessening or eliminating it altogether.

"There is growing recognition of the sociological benefits of decentralizing industry. It is offered as a step toward solution of the complexities of modern life. With the St. Louis shoe manufacturers, decentralization of production has been an established fact for years. True, the process was instituted on economic and not social grounds, but that does not detract from its merit in the present-day industrial structure.

"The issue at stake transcends the welfare of the boot and shoe industry alone. It resolves into this: the right of the small town in America to continue as a production center, which in many cases means whether it shall exist at all. If its wage scale is to be placed on an artificial par with that of the city, the town's future is dark indeed."

Mr. Burton stated that the St. Louis Shoe Manufacturers' Association and other groups which would be affected by proposed changes in the code are acquainting Congressional representatives from the Middle West with the facts of the situation so that they may aid their constituents in combating the powerful pressure being brought to bear by these Massachusetts' interests.

Stories in STAMPS

HARDLY had the residents of the Saar voted to return to Germany, when the Reich celebrated the victory with an issue of four stamps showing a young Madonna-like mother cheerfully embracing her little daughter. Across the top of each stamp is the legend "The Saar returns home."

Stamps usually are issued as memorials or in commemoration of events long past. This stamp, however, is in the form of a celebration. It appears in the 3, 6, 12 and 25 pfennig denominations.
